Biography

Many years ago in Fairyland's Enchanted Forest, a caring young fairy ran a sanctuary for small animals. 'Sanctuary' means 'safe place', so all the little woodland creatures knew that if they ever hurt themselves, or needed somewhere cozy to stay, they could come to their friend Finn Pawbuddy.

Finn had a special ability to talk to animals, and as he grew older - and braver! - he began to look after bigger ones too. Now, the other fairies always call him if they come across a creature in need. Sometimes, to keep them safe until they get better, he brings animals back to his sanctuary. When the other fairies saw how scary-looking critters like lions and tigers trusted him, they gave him the nickname 'Roary'.

Finn became a tooth fairy when he realized that many human children love animals too, but can't talk to them like he does. When he collects a lost tooth from a sleeping child, he blesses their slumber with 'Critter Whisper' magic. This lets them talk with their beloved friends in their dreams, deepening their friendship.

Nickname: Roary
Age: 137

All About Fluffwood Sanctuary

Roary's home, Fluffwood Sanctuary, has become much bigger over the years. While the tower house has stayed the same, more room was needed outside for the larger animals. Small creatures like dormice and hedgehogs can stay in the house with Finn, but tigers and pandas need plenty of space!

Roary's special ability to talk to any animal brings him visitors from all over Fairyland. Even if we are very close with our beloved furry companions, sometimes it's hard to know what they're telling us! Fairies come to be blessed with his Critter Whisper magic, so they, too, can speak to their friends in Animalese.

Finn and his furry buddies love to help the children and animals in the human realm too. When the Critter Whisper magic blesses a child's dreams, they and their beloved companions are whisked away to the Enchanted Forest. Here, they can explore the woods together and share long conversations at last.

Sadly, Finn's magic works a bit differently with humans. The details of these dreams fade away upon waking, but the animals always remember. After each enchanted dream, the bond between the two friends becomes stronger.

Official Tooth Fairy Letter

Dear

Congratulations on losing your tooth! As your Tooth Fairy, Finn Pawbuddy, I'm so proud of you.

You have a very special animal friend who let me know that you'd lost your tooth. They told me how much they love you, and that they wish more than anything that they could talk to you. I think you might feel the same way, so as a thank you for your precious tooth, I've used my Critter Whisper magic to enchant your dreams.

Now, when you go to sleep at night, you'll meet your animal buddy in a special place in your dreams. You'll both be able to explore and talk together until you wake up.

Unfortunately, with this magic, humans usually forget most of the details when they wake up. But the animal always remembers. So don't worry if your dream escapes you; just remember that every night, you are both becoming closer pals than ever. Maybe your friend will show you this with some extra cuddles during the daytime!

With love,

Finn Pawbuddy
