

Official Tooth Fairy Letter

Dear

Congratulations on losing your tooth! My name is Toothiana, but you can call me Moonshine. Last night, under the silvery moonlight, I shimmered into your room as a trail of moondust, and gently collected your precious tooth.

In return, I cast a spell to chase off worries and bring you sweet dreams. Every night from now on, a magical moonbeam will glow around your bed while you sleep. Only fairies can see this light, but you will always know it's there, surrounding you with love and protection from the fairy realm.

I think the spell will work extra well for you in fact, because your tooth holds a hint of its own moon-magic. As you get older and your grown-up teeth come in, you will learn to spread a comforting energy of your own. This will help you, and those around you, feel relaxed and happy.

When you drift off to sleep tonight, remember that you are cherished. With your warm heart, you too can brighten the world.

Love and light to you always,

Toothiana Silverglow
